

2002 Legislative Survey

To find out what issues are important to the people in my community, last year I sent a survey to residents of the 76th Assembly District asking their opinion on important matters confronting Californians. The response was overwhelming! I heard back from thousands of people.

Of the residents who responded, the three most important issues are public education, access to health care, and affordable housing. The results of the surveys have been compiled and appear below.

To give me feedback on issues that are important to you, click on Visitors Page in the left-side navigation of this website and enter your comments. Thank you.

